Village hires landfill experts

by GLORIA DAVIS

The committee probing into the proposed 80-acre landfill site, or regional pollution control facility, under directions of the Antioch Village Board, hired the consulting firm Enviro-Analysts Inc., Racine, Wis., with the intent of gaining an overall picture of the impact the landfill could have on the community.

Al Little, head of the committee, said that it had wanted to interview a couple more consulting firms but the time element prevented this.

John Reutz, president of the consulting firm, and Robert Schloesser, manager of technical services, appeared before the committee and interested residents at their Saturday, Feb. 20 meeting.

Little said that the next step is the immediate hiring of a Member of the Appraisal Institute (MIA), to report on the impact that the landfill will have on the economic value of the downtown businesses and how it will effect the commercial growth of the village.

The MIA will also report on the ultimate effect on the real estate values of not only the surrounding properties, but of the entire community.

According to Little, the testimony of an MIA will carry strength in a courtroom.

The Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Assn. has publicly objected to the landfill's addition, as have the Antioch High School Board and administration and the board of Antioch Grade School District.

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry will reportedly meet on Tuesday, Feb. 23, and then will release its stand on the matter.

At the board meeting on Monday, Feb. 15, the members of the Antioch Village Board, approving a second motion, instructed the committee, with the help of the Village Engineer Chuck McBride, to find a consulting firm as soon as possible.

The official instruction followed a controversial discussion lead by Village Atty. Ken Clark, who felt the necessity for facts from expert consultants on the overall effects of a landfill in preparation for future public hearings on the matter.

School, village, township to construct sidewalk

The village of Antioch, Antioch Township and Antioch Grade School will join forces in a three-way venture that is expected to result in the construction of a sidewalk from the Upper Grade School building, down Highway Dr. to Tiffany Rd. at a minimal cost to the participants.

Cost of the materials for the 1,200 feet of sidewalk is expected to stay beneath the $10,000 price mark and the labor will be supplied by village, school and township maintenance crews.

"That road is hardly wide enough for two cars to pass each other now," said Grade School Supt. Don Skidmore as explanation for the safety concerns for those walking or riding bicycles on the street.

The ultimate plan is for the village to have an east-west through street on Depot St., from the downtown area to the school.

At a board meeting on Monday, Feb. 15, the village board approved putting $5,000 for the project into next year's budget, when and if the monies are available.

According to Antioch Township Highway Commissioner Dave Heath, he has verbally agreed to the township's participation monetarily and labor-wise equally with the village and the school district.

Skidmore, school board oppose dump

In reference to the subject that predominated the meeting of the school board of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34, on Tuesday, Feb. 16, Supt. Donald Skidmore said, "The thought of having an additional 80 acre dump in the middle of the village of Antioch is absolutely ludicrous!"

Joining with the superintendent, the rest of the grade school board voted to unalterably oppose the landfill site proposed by Waste Management Inc., whether it is approved and annexed by the village or approved by the county or state.

"If really doesn't matter whether the soil and other conditions are suitable, many people seem to be missing the real crux of the matter which is, do you want the biggest dump in the county and maybe the state either in the center of the village or anywhere adjacent to it?" Skidmore added.

Skidmore further questioned, "Is that the kind of legacy we want to leave to the future of Antioch?"

"Can't you see, showing visitors through town, showing them our beautiful churches, our attractive parks and our lovely dump?" Skidmore finished.

Gus Costoff voted 1982's VIP

by GLORIA DAVIS

"I usually know everything that's going on, but this time they really caught me off-guard," said Antioch's 1982 VIP Gus Costoff.

"It's a big honor but it really threw me," he added. Reports have it that, after counting the many votes cast at St. Peter's, it took awhile for Bill Brook to convince the usually low-profile Costoff that the honor was his.

"I don't know how they kept this a secret," he said; still in shock that his lovely wife "K" knew about it before he did and kept it from him.

The honor may have come as a surprise to Costoff but not to any of the Antioch residents who have attended the sundry community functions that have taken place in the last 20 years and seen him working on most of the projects.

Costoff, a partner with his brothers in six Ace hardware stores in Antioch, Walworth, Delavan, Burlington, Lake Geneva and Elkhorn, moved to Antioch in 1959 and has been an active member of the community since.

"K," his nickname for Caroline his wife because there are a few more in the Costoff family with the same name, says that he is happiest when he is involved.

And involved he has been in the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, an officer in the Lakes Region Historical Society, holder of every office in the Antioch Lions Club, member of the Antioch Moose, the Antioch VFW, Knights of Columbus, the Antioch Rotary Club and the Antioch republican Club.

Gus was on the Diamond Jubilee and Bi-Centennial committees and is an active member of Ducks Unlimited and a charter member of the PM&L Theater.

"The project I enjoyed working on the most was the Hiram Butrick Sawmill," Costoff volunteered.

He is also a past member of the Antioch Community High School Board and any proud parent attending the scholarship awards every year at the high school recognizes his familiar face as he awards his personal scholarships to deserving students.

"I enjoy seeing those kids and their proud parents every year," he said. Costoff not only arrives at that annual function with scholarships and hand but he always has a few extra prettily wrapped packages to go along with them.

Gus ranks the honor of being Antioch's latest VIP right next to the "This Is Your Life," presentation, which included a prized scrapbook, he received from his boss and fellow employees after 29 years of being in the cleaning business in Maywood.

"K," his bride of 35 years, his daughter Diana, son Michael, the rest of his family and friends and especially his three-year-old granddaughter Kelly, will all be at the VIP Banquet, at St. Peter's Social Center, on Saturday, March 20 to join with the rest of Antioch in honoring one of the community's most popular citizens, August G. Costoff.

Swallow goes south; faces drug charges

James Edwin (Jesse) Swallow, 34, of Antioch has been indicted by a federal grand jury in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. on drug related charges stemming from an international drug ring investigation centered in Lake County.

Swallow, who reportedly has been a resident of Antioch for the past 10 years and whose last known address was on North Ave., was charged with two counts of conspiracy to smuggle marijuana and two counts of conspiracy to distribute marijuana.

Lake County Sheriff Tom Brown said that Swallow has a history of criminal activity in Lake County from 1967 to 1977 including disorderly conduct, criminal damage to property, criminal trespass to property and possession of narcotics. His last arrest in Lake County was in 1977.

Swallow was among 14 persons associated with a now-defunct nationwide marijuana smuggling ring, according to indictments handed down in Florida.

The ring was allegedly headed by Donald Steinberg, an Algonquin man now serving a sentence of 10 years to life on drug charges. The new indictments focus on the ring's national and international operations.

Also indicted on two counts of conspiracy to smuggle and conspiracy to distribute was Jerome Angsten of Carpentersville.

Jack Savage, formerly a Chicago commodities broker, was indicted Feb. 9 in Ft. Lauderdale also on two counts of conspiracy to smuggle marijuana and two counts of conspiracy to distribute. The other 11 indicted were not from Illinois.

Swallow was allegedly responsible for setting up the ring's west coast operation in the summer of 1978, according to one report.

Women to learn spinning

Keith Houser gave a very interesting and inspiring talk on the technique of stained glass. He explained the different kinds of tools which are used in making a stained glass ornament and how glass is made. Houser then constructed a stained glass window ornament which was won by Henrietta Alberg.

Hostesses for the day were Joan Toft, Edna Ruck, Virginia Murphy, Genevieve Lowe, Evelyn Magnuson, Phyllis McMillen, Barbara Gallaher, Veronice Gahlbeck and Frances LaPlant.

The next meeting will be on March 1, at 1 p.m. in the community room of the State Bank of Antioch. The program will be by Gloria Trabert.

It will be "Great Wearable Art through Spinning."

There will be a demonstration and fashion show. Members who have small spinning wheels are asked to bring them to the meeting.

Antioch, Warren eye North Suburban loop

At least two schools in the Northwest Suburban Conference are considering a move to the North Suburban Conference.

According to Antioch High School Supt. Warren Polley, his school asked for a meeting between the two conferences to discuss possible realignment. The request was made at a meeting of Northwest Suburban Conference schools, but no date has been set as yet to discuss realignment.

Polley stressed that his school is not dropping out of the Northwest Suburban. "We have been having conferences of this type from time to time for 15 years," said Polley.

"We'd just like to sit down and talk," he added.

Warren Township High School Supt. Calvin Leader said the major concern is competitive competition, especially at the lower levels.

"Warren and Antioch High Schools have discussed the decreasing opportunities for students to participate and compete with some existing schools in the NWSC and the prognosis for the future indicates the potential for further decreases," said Leader.

Leader and Polley both noted that their greatest concerns are at the lower levels of competition.

"At Antioch High School we have a strong under class sports policy," said Polley, who explained a concern for lack of competition, especially at lower levels.

"The decreasing opportunities are particularly true at the lower levels," confirmed Leader.

Leader said the request for consideration of realignment was made by the two schools' coaching staffs.

Many schools in the Northwest Suburban Conference, Polley explained, are experiencing declining enrollments. Enrollment at Antioch is at 1,700 students while most of the other schools in the conference are around 900.

"We'd just like to talk about some realignment. Maybe there won't be any," said Polley. "The emphasis is on consideration at this point," added Leader.

Present members of the Northwest Suburban Conference besides Antioch and Warren are Grayslake, Round Lake, Grant, Wauconda, Lake Zurich and Stevenson.

Stevenson will be leaving the NWSC next season to move to the North Suburban. They will be replaced in the NWSC alignment by Johnsburg.

North Suburban member schools are Zion-Benton, Niles North, North Chicago, Fenton, Libertyville, Mundelein, and Lake Forest.

Speculative funds make school budgeting difficult

One of the points of discussion at the meeting of the Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 school board on Tuesday, Feb. 16, was the letter sent to State Senator Adeline Geor-Karis concerning the withholding of state aids amounting to $58,500 from schools due the month of June.

The letter was in reaction to Governor Thompson's proposal to pro-rate school aids in order to increase the state treasury's cash flow.

By existing law, the state is mandated to pay 80 percent of the approved school budget.

It is now being proposed that the laws be changed to hold-off making remuneration to the schools for two years, and then only if the economic situation has changed for the better.

Library plans art show

by DONNA DeFOSSE

ANTIOCH'S TOWNSHIP LIBRARY will be having a display in the month of March from Mrs. Scheurer's Studio, a creative art workshop for young people. The children who attend are ages five to 14.

On display will be a variety of their art projects all from this multi-media fine art appreciation workshop.

Mrs. Scheurer assured me that the children are learning the basic art techniques and it is something they will have and benefit from for the rest of their lives.

So, come to the Library this coming month and see some of the things on display. In the exhibit will be two and three dimensional art, mobiles, sculpturing, block print and silk screening to name a few.

PETTY SCHOOL will be holding its winter meeting this Thursday, Feb. 25, at 7 p.m., at the school. You may contact either Mrs. DeSeri P.T.O. president at (312) 395-4299 or Mr. Paul Hain at (312) 395-1440 for any information. Thank-you for giving me a call Mr. Hain.

Also present were two Lake County Sheriff candidates, Donald Mason and Timothy Powell.

Last, but not least, a candidate close to my heart, Dan DeFosse, running for the 12th Congressional Seat.

When I think about it

No cure for growing pains

by GLORIA DAVIS

I Once heard a psychologist say that a man is nothing more than an oversized boy with a driver's license and an American Express Card and women are just little girls that have gotten smaller in some places and bigger in others and still don't know what they want!

Now though I'm neither a sexist or a women's libber, I think that those unkind words don't quite give due credit to those of us who feel we have capably waged and won the battle for maturity.

I do have to admit however, that a lot of little boys whose favorite pastime was playing with toy fire engines now people our volunteer fire departments. And thank heaven for that!

Has it ever struck you that some of the popularity of today's western clothes might just be many a fellows' realization of their childhood John Wayne fantasies?

Don't most gals still love to play dress-up, the only difference being the clothes fit now and they don't teeter on the high heels.

And aren't they still capable of winding the males in their lives around the well known finger, having graduated from daddy to the man of the moment?

Do you ever get the feeling that today's snowmobilers are yesterday's little boys who idolized Evil Kinevil?

Aren't many of today's financial wizards just grown-up versions of those kids that actually carried their allowance over from week to week?

How many of your friends are still playing nurse and doctor only using real stethoscopes?

If the games children play and the toys they play with serve as prototypes for their future, one might look with interest at the top items on this year's lists for Santa.

The fact that Rubic Cube headed the list might prophesize a generation of delvers and thinkers with great concentration and tenacity. A good testation to the possibilities of the sciences and businesses of tomorrow.

It looks like little girls will still grow up to be mothers since the Tippee-Toes doll, pushing her baby- buggy, was number one with most of them.

Of course the fact that an increasing number of women are trying to perform the miracle of motherhood without the continuing presence of a master of the house could prove a serious concern.

Most kids asked for one of the many Dukes of Hazard toys. Does this bode an ominous warning to our local street-traffic controllers that they will be dealing with a generation of even more dedicated speed-lovers and car-crashers?

But I guess we really don't have to worry about the next generation of adults, I still see plenty of happy children full of smiles and any adult that can continue that can't be all bad.

Like my favorite pediatrician once said, "Don't worry about the kid who still wants his bottle at two, I haven't seen too many adults walking down the street sucking on a baby-bottle."

He also dismissed the over due potty-training by adding that none of his friends wore diapers and most thumb-suckers just graduate to pipes or cigarettes.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Keith Boehm, who has done so well in the area community theater groups, is really keeping busy, theatrically speaking.

I see where he's in rehearsal for two musicals at once. He's appearing in Barat College's production of "Grease," Feb. 26-28 and March 5-7 and four days later he opens in Carmel High School's version of "Oklahoma," playing the male lead, Curly.

Congrats to Edward Kuligowski, sophomore at St. John's Preparatory School, Collegeville, Minn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kuligowski, who has made the Headmaster's Honor List.

Old Annie Mae was one of those 7,000 fishermen at the Chain-of-Lakes Fishing Derby on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 13 and 14, but the only thing I caught was a slight cold.

I tried to enter the girls' sack race, but they said I was over-age, so I just watched a lot of local folks walk away with some dandy prizes.

Pam Justine, won the kids' fishing contest, Helen Dowell, the ladies' fishing contest, Kurt Hucker the boys' and girls' sack race, Ken Anderson the boys' sack race.

And you should have seen Ed Schuld go to win the men's sack race.

Pam Justin did it again in the kid's egg throwing contest, along with Lori Cheterbok, Shawn Schuld and Chuck Drosen.

Even though they looked a little messy afterwards, Ron Deservi and his wife and Debbie Burell and Mark Rzscko may have had egg on their faces but they came out winners in the adult's egg throwing contest.

The best minnow-guesser of all was Jason Johnson while Ann Waters and Marilyn Edwards did themselves proud in the ladies' auger contest.

Sunday's game players also saw Chris Parker and Eric Malieiki take the boy's sack race and Tom Gers take the dual sack race.

Ann Waters, Helen Dowell and Marilyn Edwards did it again in the ladies' fishing contest and Mary Sterbenz and Robin Ramage threw their eggs well enough to win prizes, as did Tim Varvc.

Jean Rockow proved to be the top minnow guesser and Robin Ramage is good at guessing ice weights.

Kathy Morrissey tells me that there's no excuse for missing those great aerobic dance classes offered by Antioch Parks since another class will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, from 7:30-8:30 p.m.

Baseball clinics planned

To better prepare players between the ages of nine and 12 years old for the upcoming season, this year, Antioch Little League is sponsoring softball and baseball clinics for boys and girls.

These clinics will stress playing fundamentals and rules, and will be conducted by the 1982 manager and coaching staff.

There will be one session per week for four consecutive weeks, and each prospective player is urged to attend as many of these programs as possible to better prepare him or her for League play.

Girls will meet 7 to 9 p.m., Tuesdays, starting March 9, at Emmons School. Boys will meet 7 to 9 p.m., Wednesdays starting March 10, at W.C. Petty School.

For more information call Denis Flaschner (312) 395-5757.

on Friday, Feb. 19.

Coach Roger Andrews said he was exceptionally pleased with the Sequoit showing as they were successful in getting the ball inside to Chris Becker 58 percent of the time.

Andrews credited this for the fowling-out of the Bears two top players.

Becker was top scorer for Antioch with 20, and Mike Gofran marked down 14.

The story was the same on Saturday, Feb. 19, except the end was different, as the Grant Bulldogs edged a hard-playing Sequoit team, 59-58, gaining the Northwest Suburban Conference Championship.

"It was a super team effort, they played their hearts out," Andrews commended his cagers.

Gofran lead the scoring with 17, followed by Bob Gatti and Sheedlo, with 12 points each.

Antioch may have been able to pull the game out but they missed a one-on-one free throw and also the resulting rebound shot with one second to go.

Although Grant held an 11 point lead early in the second period, Antioch took over by one, right before halftime and it was nip and tuck throughout the rest of the game.

The Sequoits will face

Woodstock, in a makeup game on Tuesday, Feb. 23, and Stevenson on Friday, Feb. 26, at Stevenson.

Antioch is expecting a good game on Friday with Andrews saying that Stevenson has been playing good ball the last few weeks.

The Sequoits then host the regionals, their first game being a rematch with the Grant Bulldogs, at 6:30 p.m., on Wednesday, March 3.

If they win that one, they will meet the winner of the Grayslake-Round Lake game on Friday, March 5.

Candidates night set

The public is invited to attend Candidates Night at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 25, at Cedar Village Apartments, 310 N. Milwaukee Ave., Lake Villa.

This special opportunity to meet the candidates is being sponsored by the Cedar Village Tenant Council.

All of the candidates who will appear on the ballot of the March 16 Primary Election in northwestern Lake County have been invited. It will be an informal affair allowing everyone time to meet and talk to the candidates.

'Life' to close Feb. 27

There will be only two more performances of Brian Clark's "Whose Life Is It Anyway?" at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main St. in Antioch.

The timely and gripping play closes there this weekend, and the last two performances will take place Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 26 and 27. Curtain time for each of these final presentations is 8:30 p.m.

During the last two weekends, area audiences have been engrossed by the suspenseful and gripping comedy, yes comedy, of the "right to die" of a hopelessly incurable hospital patient.

Sensitive to the current controversy over this moral and legal question, the play brings today's theatergoers into direct confrontation with the issues involved.

Anyone not having yet seen the PM&L production of "Whose Life Is It Anyway?" should not lose anymore time in calling (312) 395-3055 for reservations.

Car-pole collision kills 20-year-old

Linda J. Haling, 20, Antioch, was pronounced dead at the scene of an accident that occurred west of Fairfield Rd., on Main St., in Avon Township, by Deputy Lake County Edward Van Deim.

Haling's death occurred as a result of a car-utility pole collision, at 5:15 a.m., on Sunday, Feb. 14.

According to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., the vehicle, driven by Elizabeth S. Greenhill, 20, Round Lake, went out of control, traveled 61 feet in the snow off of the road and hit a telephone pole.

Greenhill and another passenger, Jennifer A. Behne, 18, Gurnee, were taken to St. Terese Hospital, Waukegan, by the Round Lake Rescue Squad.

Mooseheart receives donation

The Women of the Moose February Chapter Night Program was hosted by Patricia Sterling and her hospital committee. Two checks were presented to Senior Regent Terry Smallwood, from the committee to be sent to Mooseheart in their name.

One re-enrollment, Cecilia Portalski, was named in Patricia's honor. Louise Gutowski was the sponsor.

A special ceremony, directed by College of Regents Chairman Judith Kelly followed the opening. Collegian Jerri Polson, acting as investing officer, changed Stephanie's tassel to red, signifying at least a full year was completed as a member of the College of Regents.

On March 7, in Highland Park, Stephanie will receive her red stole to complete the regalia of a collegian. Approximately 15 members of the Antioch chapter plan to attend.

March 6, the library committee will be hosting a game night beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Moose home. On the last Saturday of the month, March 27, the child care committee hosts a card and bronco party starting at 7:30 p.m.

Jr. Graduate Regent Louise Gutowski is chairman of a special meeting, Sunday, March 21 at 2 p.m., commemorating her successful last year as senior regent.

Visiting chapters around the area will be filling the officers chairs for the afternoon. Marianna Koller, past deputy grand regent of Illinois will be guest speaker for Louise.

The next enrollment is being held March 4, at 8 p.m.

Hamlin on honor list

Clay Hamlin, a sophomore, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hamlin of Antioch, has made the headmaster's honor list at St. John's Preparatory School in Collegeville, Minnesota. Hamlin achieved a grade point average of 3.5 or better for the first semester of the academic year.

Brother Linus Ascherman, headmaster of the prep school, commented, "It is pleasing to me that 25 percent of the student body has achieved the high honor of making the prestige honor list at our school. We do try to attract academically capable students. It gives us great satisfaction when our students raise themselves to the challenge that we try to create for them."

St. John's Preparatory School is a Benedictine college prep school located on the campus of St. John's University and Abbey in Collegeville. The school has an enrollment of 265 with a residency program for boys and a co-ed day program that includes 68 girls.

HOW SHOULD YOU BRUSH?

Over the past 30 years, many methods of toothbrushing have been recommended. For the most part, new toothbrushing methods reflect how our understanding of tooth decay and gum disease has improved.

We now know that dental plaque, a sticky substance filled with bacteria, is responsible for decay and gum disease. The best way to prevent decay and gum disease is to remove this plaque from the grooves and crevices where it collects.

Use a soft nylon brush which can be placed at the gumline without injuring the gums. Angle the bristles at 45° to the teeth, with the tips of the bristles at the gumline. Press the bristles against the teeth, and move the brush back and forth with short, definite strokes. Continue to the count of ten before moving on to the next group of teeth. Repeat until all teeth have been covered.

Dr. Sven will be happy to answer individual questions about dental problems. Address personal inquiries to his office.

AARP to swap hearts at Valentine's party

by BERNICE BERNAU

Despite the cold, approximately 158 members attended the Antioch Chapter of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) meeting at the Antioch Area Senior Center, Holbek Dr. on Feb. 9.

Several people brought their own lunches when the board members voted not to share sandwiches at the meetings. There was more than enough cake for everyone, with some going back for seconds and the rest given away for door prizes.

Randy Wiesemann, director of the Chain-O-Lakes Senior Services, was the guest speaker. He spoke of the many services that are available to people age 60 and over to help them retain dignity and independence by remaining in their own homes among familiar surroundings, rather than being needlessly institutionalized.

The Chain-O-Lakes service is sponsored by The Chaplaincy Service, Inc., an inter-denominational, not-for-profit organization. It serves eight townships, Antioch, Grant, Lake Villa, Avon, Wauconda, Fremont, Cuba and Elia — in western Lake County.

Its new mini-bus that gives door-to-door service now holds 16 people. This helps people keep doctor and dentist appointments, do grocery shopping and attend various social functions. Appointments should be made at least one day in advance.

There is no fee, however, they do ask for donations. The upkeep on the bus is expensive, so they ask you to be as generous as possible.

Meals-with-Wheels are delivered by dedicated volunteers at noon for a nominal cost to home bound people who are unable to shop or cook for themselves. Special diets are available and all meals are professionally prepared.

Daily telephone communication is established with individuals, providing human contact and a check upon their overall safety and well being. Emergency procedures are taken wherever indicated.

Regular home visits are made to those who feel lonely and desire companionship. The painful isolation experienced by so many older people can often be alleviated through the friendship of an understanding volunteer.

Isolated elderly are located and informed of the many benefits and services currently available to them. Upon request, appropriate link-up arrangements can then be made and relevant literature distributed.

Wiesemann asked for volunteers from the club. You can give whatever time you can afford and you will be warmly welcomed and cordially received. Call (312) 395-5162 to offer your services or for more information. Volunteers receive two days of training.

Since donations are essential, Mrs. Cecil Mann, president, presented Wiesemann with a check for $25 for the Chaplaincy Service from the chapter.

Emily Novotny, friendly aid chairman, told of several members being hospitalized. Therese Krantz is still in Condell Memorial Hospital after being in an automobile accident Thanksgiving Day, in which her husband Frank was killed.

Irene Daniels has been in Libertyville Manor for about two months now, and expects to be there another two months. Iris Schroeder suffered a stroke, but is home now. Dolly Spiering had an emergency gall bladder operation last week and is at Victory Memorial Hospital.

John Bednarkiewicz, legislature chairman, told of grandparents right to visit their grandchildren when the parents are divorced. Also, that first cousins over 65 years of age are able to marry and information about the circuit breaker.

Glen Peterson will be selling tickets for a bus trip to the Golden Rondelle Theatre in Racine to see "The Living Planet", "To Be Alive" and "To Fly" on the big screen.

Then they will have lunch at Nino's. After lunch they will go shopping at the Regency Mall. Weather permitting, these are the plans for Tuesday, March 30.

The Feb. 23 meeting, which will be a Valentine party, will be catered. Members may purchase tickets for the luncheon from Florence Lombardo.

Bingo will be played, with 20 dozen eggs given as prizes.

A sign at the Antioch Area Senior Center, which also serves lunches to the senior citizens for a donation on the week days that AARP does not use the center, reads, "Age is mostly a matter of mind. If you don't mind, it doesn't matter."

Anyone interested in joining AARP must first become a member of the national association. Dues are now $5 a year or three years for $12.50. That is for an individual membership or spouse, if married. Local dues are $2 a person, payable Jan. 1 of every year. The Antioch chapter meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month at the Antioch Area Senior Center. Doors open at 10 a.m., with coffee and cake served at noon, unless other arrangements have been planned.

Members and guests are asked to pay 35 cents for the coffee and cake. Any member having a birthday during the month does not have to pay for his refreshments at the first meeting of the month, which is always a business meeting.

During the meeting, members signed a petition nominating Clarence and Dolly Spiering for the honor of being Antioch's 1982 VIP's. The VIP chosen will be honored at the 14th Annual VIP Dinner Dance on Saturday, March 20, at St. Peter's Social Center. They donated over $21,000 for the 30 additional feet of building at the Antioch Area Senior Center.

All five dens received ribbons for having 100 percent participation at the dinner. That is, one or both parents attending.

Pack 191 received a red, white and blue ribbon for its window display during Scouting week. They had a drawing of a Cub Scout fishing. Each fish in the display held a picture of the Scouts taken at one of the events they participated in, such as Lindenhurst Jubilee Days parade, advancing in Scouting, picnic, etc. The display was in the Linden Plaza Barber Shop. The theme was Catch the Scouting Spirit.

A certificate was presented to past Cubmaster Gregory Neul in appreciation of his services.

Denners reports were given earlier in the evening by Peter Han, Den one; Philip Baumunk, Den Two; Raymond Sliteris, Den

Three; Alvin Rentsch, Den Four and Alex Neul, Den Five.

Members of the Pack Committee are Mickie Napp, chairman; Amy Han, treasurer; Jackie Parkman, advancement; Don Napp, Cubmaster; Larry Hansen, assistant Cubmaster; Dick Weston, Webelos leader and Shirely Rentsch, Den leaders coach.

Blue and Gold Dinner Committee is Jackie Parkman, coordinator; Hedy Sliteris, decorations; Toni Hansen, entertainment; Jim Carey and Chris Fassbinder, set up; Pat Hammack, invitations; Joy Baumunk, program and Margaret Larkin and Pat Clark, kitchen.

Thanks from the Scouts go to Drug and Variety, and Allen Becker for assistance in purchasing materials for decorations and also to Gerald T. Niedert.

ACHS readies for policy evaluation

At the meeting of the board of education of Antioch Community High School, held on Thursday, Feb. 18, the board approved the revised statement of the school district's philosophy and objectives.

This is just a first step in the working-up of a sub-evaluation for the consideration of the 25-member committee from the North Central Assn. of Colleges and Schools, who will do the first complete evaluation of the school and its programs in seven years, in December.

The board also voted to join the National Assn., for the Exchange of Industrial Resources, a non-profit organization that collects and makes available, to its members, materials and equipment no longer needed by industry.

Director of Curriculum Gary Allen reported to the board that 84 students had signed up for, and were already taking, the ACT prep course which is being taught on six successive Mondays. They evening classes started Feb. 15.

Antioch High School's home economics rooms will soon have six 36 inch-ceiling fans, a purchase approved by the board in an energy saving effort.

In other business, the board set summer school fees: half-credit courses to cost $44, with a $14 registration fee; fourth credit courses, $22 with a $7 registration fee and a one credit coop courses will cost $55 with an $18 deposit upon sign-up.

The tiniest fish is the pygmy goby of the Phillipines, measuring less than half an inch.

BUYING YOUR GLASSES

Buying a pair of glasses is an important expenditure. That's one reason why you should take your time in selecting the glasses you like best.

For starters, glasses won't be worth much unless the prescription is accurate. The lens has to be professionally made to your doctor's exact specifications.

You can look for bargains. That may save you money initially. But if your glasses aren't comfortable, if you have to select from only a few styles, or they aren't well-made, that's no bargain. You want glasses you can wear in comfort for a long time. Something so important, that you use every day at work or at home, deserves very careful consideration. Appearance is important too. You want them to look good on you.

So when you get a new prescription for glasses, take your time in choosing the frames. Make sure you really like the style and color. And, most importantly, make sure they fit securely and comfortably.
